

Timescape

KenZiner

I will follow, where the stream goes
I've begged spirits, for solutions
I have asked all, to reverse time
They have all said, time's an illusion

We were never meant to be
We were never meant to be

We've spent our lives, searching for ways
Looking for clues, within the maze
But fate it seems, to have its demands
To keep us apart, oh once again

On and on and on it goes, where it stops we do not know
Another face another life, through the fire and through the ice
Oh through the Timescape, Oh through the Timescape

I called your name it seems, through all eternity
I have searched the ages through, it's hard to believe
We never will be, We never will be?

[spoken]
As I look across our lifetimes, I feel the casualties of the past
As I look into the future we only have that forecast

Oh through the Timescape, Oh through the Timescape

[Solo section]

So one more time, we missed our cue
So one more time, we've lost the truth
I know it's you and you know it's me
For what we had, we'll never concede

On and on and on it goes
Where it stops we do not know
Another face another life, through the fire and through the ice
Oh through the Timescape, Oh through the Timescape

I called your name it seems, through all eternity
I have searched the ages through, it's hard to believe
Will we ever be, will we ever be?

[spoken]
I will search the world over
For our answer of mercy
I will call to the gods
To please just let us be

Oh through the Timescape, Oh through the Timescape

I will follow, where the stream goes
I've begged spirits, for solutions
I have asked all, to reverse time
They have all said, time's an illusion

We were never meant to be

We were never meant to be
