

Greatest You Can Find

Keren Ann

I want the mornin' rain
To push it all off my face
The world's fastest train
To take me away and leave me out there

Want the Sunday breeze
To put out the candle
Some air to breathe, your love is
Much more than one can handle

Your love is greater, greatest you can find
Your love is greater, greatest you can find
Your love is greater, greatest you can find
Your love is greater, greatest you can find here

I want the morning rain
To tell you what's on my mind
No, you're not vain
But definitely not one of a kind

How can someone be
So impossible to break?
This one's on me, your love is
Much more than one can take

Your love is greater, greatest you can find
Your love is greater, greatest you can find
Your love is greater, greatest you can find
Your love is greater, greatest you can find here

Your love is greater, greatest you can find
Your love is greater, greatest you can find
Your love is greater, greatest you can find
Your love is greater, greatest you can find
