Falling

Keri Noble

Standing here outside your door Not sure if you're home Wondering if I'm a fool Maybe I should go

Usually I'm fearless
But I've become undone
A clown without even a disguise
Now everyone will know that I've

Falling falling I'm falling in love And I can't make sense of it

Don't know how this happened I can't say for sure
But suddenly I'm incomplete
Sustaining on the hope

If you should see me face to face

If you could hear my heart

You might feel this terrifying something rising up and you're

Falling falling you're falling in love And you can't make sense of it
