

Remember My Name

Keri Noble

Tell her that she's beautiful, see her falling fast.
Another round she drinks it down.
Say you want this night to last.
Her friends are going home, she hears you're wanting her to stay
She let's 'em go, and now you know this night is gonna go your way.

She says,
"If it's what you want it's what you'll get and I won't fight it.
But hurry up and make it quick before I cry.
You don't have to lie, I know this game.
I have played.
In the morning you won't remember my name."

Her parents never home for long,
She found other ways, she'd make 'em look, that's all it took
Then she'd disappear for days.
Now she sees right through them, they don't really have to try.
She just can't stop,
He gets on top, as she tries to believe his lies.

She says,
"If it's what you want, it's what you'll get and I won't fight it.
But hurry up and make it quick before I cry.
You don't have to lie, I know this game.
I have played.
In the morning you won't remember my name."

They start to blend.
He said he'd call.
She never hears from them again.
She can't say no.
She's got this hole that she's been filling up with them.
Why can't I stop?
Why won't he stay?
I didn't love him, anyway.
In the morning, you won't remember my name.
What's my name?
