Scarred

Kevin Rudolf

She came from a small town Hypnotized by the big city life She came looking for a piece of action All she got was the big city life

She tried to convince herself This was leading somewhere Just like on the last day of school They were gone by the time she got there

She's like woah, I finally found my place And I'm like woah, this girl can't keep them boys away And she says no, see I used to have dreams But I cashed in something long ago, that I can't redeem

What you are, just another cut away Now you're scarred, and these scars won't fade I still know, you don't get something for nothing Without giving up your soul

She got the get it look with the drink in her hand And she feels like no one She tries to put the past behind her But she still owes him

If I ever get out of this place, things will be different She still hides at the bottom of the bottle And cries when she looks in the mirror

She's like woah, am I looking at myself And I'm like woah, I don't see nobody else And she says no, that's the price I paid And it'll cost me my life just to get out of the game

What you are, just another cut away Now you're scarred, and these scars won't fade I still know, you don't get something for nothing Without giving up your soul

What you are, just another cut away Now you're scarred, and these scars won't fade I still know, you don't get something for nothing Without giving up your soul

What you are, just another cut away Now you're scarred, and these scars won't fade I still know, you don't get something for nothing Without giving up your soul
