

Struggling

Kickback

i've harden myself 'cause i won't get trapped in this world of confusion never give up and never give in always just trying to stay alive struggling to survive thought i was broken but my will is strong i won't fuckin bend i think for myself i think for the best and seek the truth till the end no matter what i do i can't seem to get ahead there's always someone messing with my head you think you know what life is really about it' s easy to see there's no way out and when all the things you believe in fall through....what are you gonna do?

cast aside i won't go out like that all this pain it's tearing me apart i'll never surrender i will fight back seekin' the truth till the end
