Collide

Kid Rock

You're no angel, I'm no saint, if we were We wouldn't be in this place tonight

Lost and lonely, scared and confused We both have a past, nothing to lose, tonight Well it cuts like a knife these bad luck blues We both got scars from the hell we been thru Somebody's gotta win, somebody's gotta lose

So let's roll the dice, one more time Take a chance on love again tonight Risk it all, lay it on the line Let the skeletons fight for life Tonight, hold on tight, as we collide

Reconnected, feelin' no pain Seeking shelter like a spark in the rain, tonight (ooh yeah) Worn and weathered, scared to go home We're here together, but still all alone, tonight (uh uh yeah) And there's no need to lie, we've both been abused The love and the pain, the cocaine and booze, now Most people don't, but some people do

So let's roll the dice, one more time Take a chance on love again tonight Risk it all, lay it on the line Let the skeletons fight for life Tonight, hold on tight, as we collide
