

Annie may, I have waited for you
And I'll stay, and I'll always stay true
Annie may, I have waited for you
And no other end of the world there will be
Cast away for the things we will do
When we get, we get our hands on you
While the shore is beat black and beat blue
Cause no other end of the world there will be

Let go
Let go
Your hope is weakening but you can not let go
Let go
Now you're weakening but I am here for you

Where we lay, in a hotel bedroom
Watch the world fall apart from god's view
If we stay and we see this all through
Then no other end of the world there need be

Let go
Let go
Your hope is weakening but you can not let go
Let go
Now you're weakening but I am here for you
