

Kill the Dragon

Kierra Kiki Sheard

Son, here's what I want you to do
She'll be there waiting for you
With tear stained eyes
Son, here's what I want you to do
She'll be there waiting for you
With tear stained eyes
Now he'll be there dressed for the fight
Sword out and mouth full of lies
But you'll be fine

And I already know that it's uncomfortable for a father to ask this of his son

But could you
Kill the dragon, save the girl
He's got a trap down in the world
And you can have her for your bride
But this will cost your life
Love will open with the key
Drenched in blood and suffering
The greatest story ever heard
Kill the dragon, save the girl

Son, there is debt that she made
A price only your life could pay
She needs your love
He made her a slave to her sin
Accused her again and again
She's had enough

And I already know that it's uncomfortable for a father to ask this of his son

But could you
Kill the dragon, save the girl
He's got a trap down in the world
And you can have her for your bride
But this will cost your life
Love will open with the key
Drenched in blood and suffering
The greatest story ever heard
Kill the dragon, save the girl
