Walking

Walking My head in the air Each step I take Is a step over trouble Emotions are gone There's no analyzing Time can go endlessly on All is alive That I see before me The more I know The more you can show me Sky over land And land under ocean Time can go endlessly on For at time I need someone To take me anywhere On my own I wander I have no need to care

Walking Nobody passing by Each step I take Is a step over troubles Gently I fly Through clouds of emotion Time can go endlessly on
