

Something To Arrive

Kilians

When I go hundred years from now
I should be waiting and I'm waiting alone
I got it all in my head tonight
I never asked you to judge my desires you never tried to light out a fire I see it burning there in your eyes I want to know what's hidden behind and I got something on my mind:

Though you really wanna know
You really wanna know What it's like to be there waiting on you knees for something to arrive
for something to arrive
and all the things you try to hide We're never gonna know what's inside
but I got something on my mind
got something on my mind tonight

So let's go hundred years from now
I should be waiting and I'm waiting alone
I got it all in my head tonight
I'm gonna find it on my own but tough you never lost control

You really wanna know what it's like to be there waiting on your knees
for something to arrive
for something to arrive
and all the things you try to hide
We're never gonna know what's inside
But I got something on my mind
got something on my mind tonight

So why am I somewhere else?
I'm somewhere else and why don't you see something? see, there is something in there is something in there!