

Used To Pretend

Kilians

You used to move on
While I used to stay out
You tend to stay calm
While I used to shout
There's no single tear that
I want to cry

You cut me off and I'm telling lies
So say what you need
And I say what I like
You used to move on
While I used to get high
There is no reason why
No need to blame
Everything remains
But it's not the same

I used to pretend that it's not my day
Used to pretend that I'm on my way
You used to love what is on your mind
I seem to break for a second time

Now you say what you need
And I say what I like
You used to move on
While you used to get high
There's no reason why
No need to blame
Everything remains
But it's not the same

I used to pretend that it's not my day
Used to pretend that I'm on my way
You used to love what is on your mind
I seem to break for a second time

I used to pretend that I love to stay
Used to pretend that it's on its way
You used to love what is on your mind
I seem to break for a second time

Say what you need and I say what I like
See, what you need, no, it's not what I like

I used to pretend that it's not my day
Used to pretend that I'm on my way
You used to love what is on your mind
I seem to break for a second time
We used to pretend
