

When Will I Ever Get Home

Kilians

You know I don't answer this because I'm just too weak
For it
You say: I can't handle it,
The way you look is so: scandalous
You see me falling down a long way
You're watching with interest,
You're telling all your friends
Don't tell that I missed them
Oh, I see instantly what I built up perfectly

No, we've got nothing in common today
You sit down just to shit on my way
But there's nothing that I could say,
No there's nothing that I could say

There is nothing that I could do
Nothing to choose, nowhere to hide a heart that is Bruised
But it'll be fine, fine, fine
You see me falling down a long way and you're watching
With interest
So you tell it all your friends
Please don't tell that I missed them
Oh, I see instantly what I built up perfectly

No, we've got nothing in common today
You sit down just to shit on my way
But there's nothing that I could say
No there's nothing that I could say
No there's nothing that I could say
We've got nothing in common tonight
You lay down just to lay on my side
There's something that we both can't deny
But somehow it just doesn't feel right

No, no, no, no

So you look up, you look all night, no you don't stop,
You're up all night (3x)

You sit down to shit on my way
You sit down to shit on my way

No, we've got nothing in common tonight
You sit down just to shit on my way
But there's nothing that I could say
No, there's nothing that I could say
We've got nothing in common tonight
You lay down just to lay on my side
There's something that we both can't deny
But somehow it just doesn't feel right
