New Heart For Christmas

Kill Hannah

Navy pier at xmas you can go at 3am There will be no one The ferris wheel still turns As though it's a popular attraction still And when the songs slowly play Throw the old broken PA

A new heart for xmas She needs a new xmas "Cos you broke it all apart Put it back together again"

Strange holiday maniquins still move As though someone was watching besides me Their joints are rusty They chirp like inside There's something alive Oh no, somehow it strikes me

I need a new heart for xmas Cos you broke it all apart Put it back together again You hit me oh so hard Put me back together again