

Beautiful Colors

Kill Paradise

Gracing the stage, but I'm turnin' the page.
That moment's gone, so I wrote you this song now.
It feels like the road is telling me where to go now.
There's nothing to fear, it's so special here.

So I'll go pack my bags, take the train
leave with nothing but my own hopes and dreams, that's everything to me.

So what would it be like if everything came true
Imagine when I see you, imagine what I'd do
I'd gaze up at the stars and never move my eyes
Take me to a place high up in the skies.
Imagine what I'd do if everything came true.
I'd never have to fly in a rainy day
[come short of love, man pass it my way]-?

I'll go pack my bags, take the train
leave with nothing but my own hopes and dreams, that's me.
I know it's true, but i gotta do what my heart's supposed to do
and what I was born to do.

So what would it be like if everything came true
Imagine when I see you, imagine what I'd do
I'd gaze up at the stars and never move my eyes
Take me to a place high up in the skies.
Imagine what I'd do if everything came true.
I'd never have to fly in a rainy day
[come short of love, man pass it my way]-?

I'll go pack my bags, take the train
leave with nothing but my own hopes and dreams, that's me.
I know it's true, but i gotta do what my heart's supposed to do
and what I was born to do.

Grab my hand now and feel my insides, this is where I should be
All that dreamin' and theres with reason, its extra-ordinary

I'll go pack my bags, take the train
leave with nothing but my own hopes and dreams, that's me.
I know it's true, but i gotta do what my heart's supposed to do
and what I was born to do.

Grab my hand now and feel my insides, this is where I should be
All that dreamin' and theres with reason, its extra-ordinary

Grab my hand now and feel my insides, this is where I should be
All that dreamin' and theres with reason, its extra-ordinary

I'll go pack my bags, take the train
leave with nothing but my own hopes and dreams, that's me.
I know it's true, but i gotta do what my heart's supposed to do
and what I was born to do.

So what would it be like if everything came true
Imagine when I see you, imagine what I'd do
I'd gaze up at the stars and never move my eyes

Take me to a place high up in the skies.
Imagine what I'd do if everything came true.
I'd never have to fly in a rainy day
[come short of love, man pass it my way]-?

and I just need, need this moment to watch the sky breathe the air and I can see, see the ocean and your eyes standing there and a prayer
