

Don't Call Me, I Won't Call You

Kill Your Idols

Don't ask me if you don't have the time
I'm not OK so save your time
I don't mean to over-react
But now the favor has to be paid back

Don't wanna hear no more boring stories
Don't care about your fears or your worries
I don't care if you're down in the dumps
You're never there when I'm taking my lumps

Don't want to hear that you're down in the dumps
Don't want to hear about the girls you want to fuck
Thought we were friends but I guess we're not
Let's end this now, let the phone calls stop

It's really easy, this is my grievance
Friendships aren't based on convenience
When I need you, you're never there
You never seem to care

Don't call me, I won't call you
So now I guess we're through
See you some other day
With nothing left to say
