

We Were

Killing The Dream

We were like that once... When you could die of a broken heart, and just one smile could fix it all. We'd get back up when we' d fall.

We believed the songs we sang. We knew everything... Except tha t it would end, at least the way we knew. I've never known it m ore than I do now. And we would never be like this. We believed in forever, because we still had it. Somehow it got lost along the way.

We had things that we lived for, and we'd die for even more. We 're not colder now... Just a little older. We can't go back, I just I would have known.