

The New Awakening

Killswitch Engage

Run the race that will lead to no where fast
Trapped in the haze of this mindless false reality Wandering a path laid out by fools that they call "progression" where chaos rules

There is more to life than this
We are more than just this flesh/We are alive and our time has come for a new awakening

Come death, come suffering I will not live in fear
In this fleeting life where time escapes us
The path of least resistance is a slow quiet death
I'd rather burn out than fade away

I would rather die than live my life in fear
Out of step
No regrets in the new awakening

I will not live in fear
Live life with no regrets
