Never Something Was So Real

I feel something inside me I feel something cold I can't hear your cryings the lights are turning off Towards the pain Towards forgiveness All I wanna know is after That sinister light What is what you want? You can't escape What is what you want? Never something was so real I'm finding myself Everything falls around me The souls are disappearing Result of this sacrifice This is the song of my pain, it is buried deep in a gray sky I cannot forget, it is buried deep in a gray sky

Killus