

Flames

Kim Mitchell

Way deep inside your heart
There's a fire burning
You need to feel someone's kisses swirling

And out of your jealous eyes
Your changing, trying
This is the spark that flames
Now you're shining

You will find a [?]
And the love was concealed

When the flames burn higher and higher
When the music gets the right feel
When the crowd sings louder and louder
When inside something feels so unreal...so unreal

When you're a lonely man
Lost in the darkness
You want to feel her touch
To find you helpless

Open the door of love
Open your eyes
This is the spark that flames
Now your shining

All the magic of life is waiting for you
Take a chance on giving
You're not alone
