

Give Me Back

Kina Grannis

I always take the high road
And I always bite my tongue and say
You're right, oh, you're right
And I never say just what I think
For fear that you can't handle it
But tonight, oh, tonight

I can't hold back
I'm breaking out the gates and screaming

Give me back my voice again
Give me back my self
Give me back my love again
I wanna give it to someone else
I will not calm down, I won't be nice
Now, give me back

All that time I wasted is now
All I'm making up
And it's mine, oh, it's mine
Now I'm not so scared of what I want
There's a freedom in just being me
And I'm flying, oh, I'm flying

So sick of trying to make it easy
I'm on my own, now there's finally breathing room
