

Please Remember

Kina Grannis

Feel a little cold tonight
As I lie down
Picture your face beside me
And there's no way for telling if I've gone wrong
In stubbornly keeping the notion of you with me
My imaginary friend
My secret company

Oh, I remember, please remember
Oh, all my scars and where they are
Oh, please remember, I remember
Oh, your hands like ice, my sacrifice that I don't really mind at all

Your sun looks bright tonight
One day behind
So I could spoil your fun
Tell you all about tomorrow and what went on Skip a day ahead in the comfort of your bed

Oh, I remember, please remember
Oh, an absent face on your big day
Oh, please remember, I remember
Oh, shooting stars that seemed so far
But now seem close from where you are
