

Cold as Ice

King Diamond

Cold and wet, I'm sitting on my bed... Ah

Colder and colder

The candles burning in my room are getting weaker

Darker and darker

The shadows dancing on the wall are growing taller

Cold as ice, this room is cold as ice, and growing colder

Colder and colder

My skin is slowly turning blue, I'm frozen over

Darker and darker

The Dark is slowly creeping in, It's taking over

Cold as ice, this room is cold as ice, and so am I

My breath is slowing... and yet, it's summertime

The dark is moving

It's as if the shadows have a life of their own

As if the shadows have a life of their own

Cold as ice, I'm cold as ice, cold as ice, so cold

Colder and colder

The spirits waiting in my room are growing stronger

Darker and darker

The dark is like an open door, inviting them into your home

Cold as ice, this room is cold as ice, and so am I...

My breath is slowing... and yet, it's summertime

The dark is moving

It's as if... The shadows have a life of their own

As if the shadows have a life of their own

Cold as ice, I'm cold as ice, cold as ice, so cold

Uhhh... Cold as ice

Uhhh... So cold
