The Floating Head

King Diamond

I'm in the hallway on the floor, I cannot stand the dark no mor ρ Oh I'm lighting candles everywhere I try to keep the darkness out of here Inside my mind nightmares are turning real Oh inside my mind I can't control how I feel Now I'm on the second floor, I cannot stand the dark no more Still I'm lighting candles everywhere I try to stay awake out of fear Inside my mind nightmares are turning real Oh inside my mind I can't control how I feel Or what is real For the pictures in red, they are still in my head How can I believe in all of the things I see When there's a floating head outside watching me The floating head has disappeared, I got to get some water in m y face I turn towards the mirror on the wall The little sink is filling up, the water's cold Inside my mind nightmares are turning real Oh inside my mind I can't control how I feel Or what is real For behind me is the wrinkled head of a woman who's dead No body, just the head, strong hands around my neck Forcing me under water, I'm drowning Ah... Ah... Ah... I got to breathe Ah... Ah... Got to break free Inside my mind nightmares are turning real Oh inside my mind I can't control how I feel ... Or what is real
