

Trick or Treat

King Diamond

The only light inside this tomb
Is coming from so high above us
Watching through a tiny window,
the moon is looking on

Down on your knees, down if you please
While I blindfold your eyes
The two of us are gonna play a little game
I think that I will call it

Trick or treat, let us go hide and seek
Follow me into the night
Where the sun don't shine but the moon is bright

Lucy is sleeping... in one of seven graves
Now you decide, which ones are trick or treat

Trick or treat, let us go hide and seek
I can only let you fail this twice
The third time you must be right

Lucy is sleeping... in one of seven graves
Now you decide, which ones are trick or treat

You better start digging
She could be dying while we speak
You better start digging
Before the worms have their feast

SOLOS: Herb - Andy

How does it feel, to be digging for someone you love
How does it feel... to be digging for LOVE?

Ohhhhh No No No, you failed again
That's not Lucy... that's someone else you've got You blindfolded creep

I'm beginning to get the feel that you're Digging your own grave

SOLO: Herb

Lucy is sleeping... in one of seven graves
Only one left chance, to save your daughter

You better start digging
She could be dying while we speak
You better start digging
Before the worms have their feast

The only light inside this graveyard
Is coming from so high above us
Watching from the blackened sky,
the moon is looking on

Down on your knees, dig if you please

While I blindfold your brain

One blow to the back of the head and
He is face down, down in Lucy's grave

Lucy is sleeping... in one of seven graves
Her Daddy won... but I am winning now

I'm dragging him back, back to the tomb
I'm dragging him back, and I'm tying him down
