

Breaking The Mirror

King Leoric

The gate is open and the evil's crawling in
You feel a shiver and the cold right on the skin
Don't break the mirror, don't you dare...

You feel addicted to the things you shouldn't do
There is no difference between falseness and the truth
Don't break the mirror, don't you dare...

Bridge:

Far out in the shadows is waiting your fate,
far out in the shadows...
Far out in the shadows they are digging your grave,
far out in the shadows...

Refrain:

Gone - gone it a lightless shadow
Gone - gone into unknown fields of mind
Existence that no one can know
The way to reality to find

Try as you might you can't resist against the call
You're climbing up the hill and know that you will fall
You'll break the mirror, you don't care ...

I can't remember when the turning point was passed
It took not long but this eternity will last
You broke the mirror, you don't care...
