Stormclouds

King Leoric

Far away now gone, justice torn apart Knowing no reasons where to end or to start Devastated hearts, raped and tortured souls Like the living dead we begin to crawl

Soon all tears will dry, silence fades away Burning dreams of starlight, the last decay Blood-shades in the blaze, Fire in the air Prayers left for those who might despair

Now a stormcloud fills the sky the voice of the King and his battlecry

Without fear we are on the run We're not too less to win the battle Together we will stand as one, We got the power of Heavy Metal

Water to baptize, but how to cleanse our soul? Will we stand our judgement, our final call? Blades now lead the fight, we will make them bleed Innocence to lose is destiny...!
