

Don't Remember

Kingdom Come

You keep on saying another time
Saying don't worry I will be fine
Wasting your days till the day you die

Eyes looking down
Frowns rushing all around
Ooohh

Don't remember your name
Too much pain killed the flame
No one here you can blame

The preacher so clear giving strong advise
Still cannot help when the starving die
The future relying on rolling dice

Eyes looking down
Frowns rushing all around
Ooohh

Don't remember your name
Too much pain killed the flame
No one here you can blame

Don't remember your name
Too much pain killed the flame
