

Over You

Kingdom Come

Why is it you I'm needing
Why is it you I'm leaving
Why is it me who's bleeding now
I have come to stop believing

Tumbling through an earthquake
Singing about a heartache
What I have done too many times
Let the day come when I get...

Over you, over you
Let me go, let me do
What I need, to get through
Finding peace, without you

Thought that our love's forever
We would not break up ever
Thought that our love would overcome
All disputes and all the screaming

It's not about who's to blame now
It's all about finding new ground
Letting go off our broken hearts
But until then I must get...

We had moments loving our life
Spending days, with anger inside
We've been talking, too many times
Let us leave our struggle behind
