

Disconnected from life and the real world disconnected from all that is pain
The place that I call my kingdom has driven many mortals insane.
To this place I mean to take you I have so much to show Lay down your flowers my love to this place we must go

Seasons change when I go to Hades

Why do you kick, why do you scream?
Do you not know what lies ahead?
You will sit beside me as my queen here in the realm of the dead You were promised to me by my brother this may give you much grief You can cry all you want for your mother once you feast from oblivion you will never leave

Seasons change when I go to Hades
Seasons change when I go to Hades

Seasons change when I go to Hades
Seasons change when I go to Hades
