

Through My Eyes

Kingfisher Sky

I want to run I want to hide
I lie awake, can't sleep at night
Too terrified to do it wrong
I just don't know where I belong
Fear holds me down, can hardly breathe

Through my eyes you see what's blinding me
Through my ears you hear what I believe

Inside this prison for so long
Can't tell what's right, can't tell what's wrong
There is no reason left to hide
The door was always open wide
Fear holds me down, can hardly breathe

Through my eyes you see what's blinding me
Through my ears you hear what I believe

Through my eyes you see what's blinding me
Through my ears you hear what I believe

Through my eyes you see what's blinding me
Through my ears you hear what I believe
