

Me in You

Kings of Convenience

Crossroads and given the option
To pass and look back at goals I've missed
Rainbows or burning bridges
If you squint a little more it looks the same

But ooh, there's a little bit of me inside you
Gathering what you've lost
Ooh, there's a little bit of you in everyone
Can never keep a secret

Problem lines on your face
You smooth them out so no one can tell
Put a straight back upon a stage
Could dance, dance, hide the tremor in your hand

But ooh, there's a little bit of me inside you
Gathering what you've lost
Ooh, there's a little bit of you in everyone

And I'm watching you now
I see you building the castle with one hand
While tearing down another with the other

And I'm watching you now
I see you building the castle with one hand
While tearing down another with the other

And I'm watching you now
I see you building the castle with one hand
While tearing down another with the other
