

The Build-Up

Kings of Convenience

The build up lasted for days
Lasted for weeks
Lasted too long
Our hero withdrew
When there was two
He couldn't choose one
So there was none

Worn into the vaguely announced
Worn into the vaguely announced

The spinning top made a sound
Like a train across the valley
Fading, oh so quiet
But constant 'til it passed
Over the ridge, into the distances
Written on your ticket to remind you where to stop
And when to get off

The spinning top made a sound
Like a train across the valley
Fading, oh so quiet
But constant 'til it passed
Over the ridge, into the distances
Written on your ticket to remind you where to stop
And when to get off
