Look At Me Now

Kirk Franklin

Persecuted, criticized, been denied and abandoned Pushed away, given away, some days I couldn□t imagine Getting harder, getting colder, was hard for me to see Tired of runnin□, tired of hurtin□, even got tired of me Tired of cryin□, tired of tryin□ to forget my mistakes Tired of bein□ in this storm, how much more can I take Many nights in my life, tell me why I shed more tears, my eyes would allow And after all that

Look at me now! IDm stronger this time around! Not because I was so good, but somehow You looked past where I was And you knew IDd come through cause You loved me Look at me know! So many didnDt make it through ThatDs why this heart belongs to only You! How can I complain Dbout the pain I went through Cause it grew me Look at me now!

Had no hope, had no future, even too hard to dream No one told me, Dboy, you can be whatever you want to beD Then You saved me and You gave me reason to breathe again Not perfect, yaDll, but IDm gonD run Dtil I make it to the end (It ainDt easy when your lifeDs filled with wounds that wonDt heal) And you fight through the lies trying to find whatDs for real Everyone wants the prize but they canDt stand the pain The strength I needed it came that night I cried out Your name To my people in the struggle, all my soldiers and believers To my survivors of Rita, Katrina and even FEMA! (All things are working together for our good)

Look at me now! IDm stronger this time around! Not because I was so good, but somehow You looked past where I was And you knew IDd come through cause You loved me Look at me know! So many didnDt make it through ThatDs why this heart belongs to only You! How can I complain Dbout the pain I went through Cause it grew me Look at me now!

Yes, IDve seen some hard times Some bad choices that IDve made fell back on me But now itDs time to move on, move on CanDt let my past hold down my destiny And even though I donDt always know Why you allow the night to last so long But when I see the sunlight It was only to make me strong

Look at meD Look at meD Look at meD Look at me, look at me

Look at me now! IDm stronger this time around! Not because I was so good, but somehow You looked past where I was And you knew IDd come through cause You loved me Look at me know! So many didnDt make it through ThatDs why this heart belongs to only You! How can I complain Dbout the pain I went through Cause it grew me Look at me now!

IDm better now! IDm closer now! IDm thankful now! IDm happy now! Look at me! Look at me! IDm stronger now! IDm patient now! IDm grateful now! IDll praise you now! Look at me! Look at me!
