Nature's Kingdom

Kirsty Hawkshaw

Moon beauty to live and to love in delirious bitter gardens the vision floods under the mind sky night breaths, whispering symphony after a blood sun storm love light relieves

With a goddess and a dream in sleep's misty shade i lie beneath worlds imaginary with a goddess and a dream in sleep's misty shade i'm going out to meet an old friend

Sing a true moment, recall a trip no language can heave through life like an ache, a sense, the blinding wind making believe that if there's a sandstorm you'll come and rescue me help me find my way back to the waking world

With a goddess and a dream in sleep's misty shade i lie beneath worlds imaginary with a goddess and a dream in sleep's misty shade i'm going out to meet an old friend

The desert knows we are strangers until the sands of time see through our eyes we could be lost perhaps forever but there's space in the air and it's ages till sunrise