

Janet

Kiss Kiss

Janet I swore
If you walked through that door
I won't call you tomorrow
And in your escape
Forgot in your hate
Your pills for tomorrow

And you need to take
Three pills each day
Otherwise the virus will surely gain
Travel through your veins
To your heart
To your brain
Ending all the life that you seem to know

And Janet you called
You cried on the phone
Said darkness surrounds you
Well death sucks, I know
But it's your time to go
Janet I love you

And you need to take
Three pills each day
Otherwise the virus will surely gain
Travel through your veins
To your heart
To your brain
Ending all the life that you seem to know

It's just, you hurt me so much
As I cried and I begged
For just one more day
And one night
You left me in pain

So stop, the sounds from your heart
As you cry and you beg
For just one more day
And one night
It is too late
