

Reminder

Kisschasy

The alphabet runs a to z,
Runs through my head to make stories.
Like letters wrote it stings like a cigarette burn.
Some things change and some things don't.
They're watered seeds that help us grow,
Its time for you to forget all that you've learned.

Smiles that take away eye sight,
The words that deafened me tonight.
(remeber when you told me i'd be good for her?)
We fell asleep, fell in love,
And woke up with a brand new scar.
All you have is right now,
Just stay who you are.

I've fallen on my feet,
I'm finally right here where i want to be.
With the world against me,
I'm right here.

When will we forget
