

Tiny Plastic Cup

Kisschasy

Today I woke up in a tiny plastic cup
Spiders in my hair, crawling everywhere
In my mouth, behind my eyes, keep me warm inside
Float here on my back, this is my hiding place

Let the world never see
All the strange sides of me
And it's so oh

It's so believable
I'm bad when bad is good
If you're drugs and alcohol
Then I'll be the hangover

The priests all have been buried in concrete
Confess my sins to clowns and buildings in the ground
I found a mistake in the way that we were made
Dress up party at my house, we'll all be someone else

We're so original
I'm bad when bad is good
If you're drugs and alcohol
Then I'll be the hangover

Drive fire engines through the desert in the rain
I'll search the shipwrecks in the ocean for a flame
Never caught a sickness that didn't list me as a friend
Never made a friendship that didn't kill me in the end
