

Wake. Sleep. Turn. Repeat.

Kisschasy

wake, sleep, turn and repeat again its time to change your life the weeks are dead, i'd kill for the weekend its time to stand and fight there must be more to this life you say working for the man every night and day money can buy your fancy cars but it wont make the person you are wake, sleep, turn and repeat its time to change your life

the weeks are dead, id kill for the weekend

before you know it's monday again the days are long, the nights never end what happened to your hopes and dreams? you sold them for a new pair of jeans

its time to change your life
the weeks are dead, id kill for the weekend

take a chance i promise you'll live you might even smile

you might even smile

friday night, you hide your tears drink away the rest of the year does your car hold you at night? i'd rather starve than live a lie

its time to change your life
the weeks are dead, id kill for the weekend

wake and sleep, turn and repeat again its time to change your life
the weeks are dead, i'd kill for the weekend
its time to stand and fight.
