

I Can't Help Wondering

Kitty Wells

I can't help wondering who's holding you tight
I went to see a movie to try and lose my blues
But I got so lonesome I just couldn't see it through Cause I can't help wondering where you are tonight
And I can't help wondering who's holding you tight
I stood out on the corner the rain was falling slow
I turned my collar up on my coat and walked on down the road
