

Older

Klaatu

Older

It seems like each day you get older
And each day the world becomes colder
In a cynical way

Time

Do you feel like you've missed your time?
I feel like I've missed mine
And I'm losing my way

I think it's time you realized
For I can see it in your eyes
You seem convinced that you will live forever

Over

I feel like my life has blown over
I keep looking over my shoulder
And seeing nothing but grey

It's a crime

Don't it seem like such a crime
I wish I had more time
But I'm drifting away

Older

You see it's like I told you
You've gained the right to grow older
By living today

I think it's time you realized
For I can see it in your eyes
You seem convinced that you will live forever
