Everything Works Out In The End

Kodaline

I never seen it coming
I couldn't read the signs
And now I know that it means nothing
But you are always on my mind
I got tricked into believing
You were the only one for me
But the truth can be deceiving
And I was just too young to see

They told me
Everything works out in the end
Everything works out in the end
They told me
Everything works out in the end
Everything works out in the end

You got me treading on the water
'Cause I've never learned to swim
Now I know that it's all over
I better learn to start again

They told me
Everything works out in the end
Everything works out in the end
They told me
Everything works out in the end
Everything works out in the end

Everything works out in the end
Everything works out in the end
Everything works out in the end
Everything works out in the end
