A Terrible Way

Koffin Kats

She took the harder way to go out With a knife against her throat She slowly sliced away The news struck hard

A terrible way
For these two to come to an end
A horrible sight
She nearly cut right through her neck
They couldn't believe
That this could happen next door
A terrible way
For these two

He laid upon the kitchen floor With an icepick in his brain She had to save them both

They said it was a murder suicide Yet no motive could be found They were the perfect pair So fitting