

If I Return

Koffin Kats

All these voices telling me
Which ways best to go
But I've not heard anyone
Who knows the things I know
I've seen the slaughtered children's corpses
Pointing to the skies
Where the schoolhouse used to be
I jumped a rift in time

Oh have you seen me since I went beneath the ground
Or is there someone else, stealing all my love

The church was lighting up the sky
As it burned throughout the night
Barricade against the door
No one had survived

Walking through the village where the plague had fallen on Breathe the poison one had said
But he didn't know who I was

If I return, will you know my face
Or will you just pass me by like all the others in the past
