

Life Is Fragile

Konkhra

How we love
To measure things
How we see
Ourselves supreme
How we live
Pathetic lives
And make sure
Our offspring thrives

When facts are faced
For the human race
You will see
There is nothing we can change

Life is fragile
Life is fragile
Life is fragile
Life is fragile

I do think
That if the planet was alive
Not just lived on
But with a pulse inside
She wouldn't care
Or even know
How we all got to be so fucking low

When facts are faced
For the human race
You will see
There is nothing we can change, no

Life...
