I can remember when we first met we really had some times when the success started to kick in life turned into a mess

Why can't we still be friends? Why judge me for what I am? Can we go back again? I'm still the same man.

You figured out really who I am you'll bet your life on that why can't you see me for what I am where human don't forget that (that)

Why can't we still be friends? Why judge me for what I am? Can we go back again? I'm still the same man.

Stand around, don't follow me around playing me like a clown facing life not real (not real) life not real (not real) life not real (not real)

Why can't we still be friends? Why judge me for what I am? Can we go back again? I'm still the same man.

SAME man!! [4x]
