

After The Rain

Kotipelto

As the rain pours on And all is gray So the leaves fall down And soon decay
When there is pain, there will be light And soon the sun will shine
It will brighten up the night And everything is fine

If the rain would wash away All the tears from your eyes Could you find your way back in the darkest night
Would you still cry?

There is sorrow in your eyes But still you're so strong I will hold you in my arms
Caress you with my song

If the rain would wash away All the tears from your eyes Could you find your way back in the darkest night
Would you still cry?
