

Lookin Out My Window

Kottonmouth Kings

Hello... (whoowwhoowhowwho)...

I've been hoping... hoping

I keep waiting... waiting

Waiting on my life for a time want I could say

I'm looking out my fish bowl watching time in life past me by

Now I'm wondering why and how I get in this place and this situation

I wish I could grow some wings and fly out of this dream

Cause it's a nightmare

All I do is go with through the motion

Without a ''purpus'' or a person next to me so I'm holding

Onto hoping a open pray or wish and a dream

That one day I'd get out of here and finally be free

Now I'm starring out the window

To see what is out there?

Is anything out there?

Is there anything out there for me?

Now I'm starring out the window

To see who is out there

Is anybody out there?

Is anyone is listening

I'm starring out this window

Hello world is me!

Hello me; I'm the shadow of laughter

Hello me, I'm the waking disaster

Hello is me, on the edge of the raptors

With a rope and ladder you know it really don't madder to me

I've been hiding inside myself

Lying and trying to defile myself

Want everybody out there is going for sale

I'm slowly falling seeking down closer to hell

Hello...

Now I'm starring out the window

To see what is out there?

Is anything out there?

Is there anything out there for me?

Now I'm starring out the window

To see who is out there

Is anybody out there?

Is anyone is listening

I'm starring out this window

Hello world is me!

I want to{... } what is like to being one {... } in a place real far

Yeah far from here, far from home, far from everything I know

I just want to move away, plant my seed and make it grow

Watch it blossom in the sun, beautiful and chillax

Create my home; waiting future's

Get away from this cloud

Right now I hurt searching for something that's right

So until my time comes I keep on hoping tonight will be my last night... What what...

Now I'm starring out the window

To see what is out there?
Is anything out there?
Is there anything out there for me?
Now I'm starring out the window
To see who is out there
Is anybody out there?
Is anyone is listening
I'm starring out this window
Hello world is me!
