

Unspoken

Krampus

I am the mistake, son of your wrongs
Crushed by this waiting I'm exploding
I'm stuck between my dreams and reality
What can I afford it's just the pale shadow of what you promise d
Born under the sign of void
I have no future no hopes to fulfill
You who had no chance to build your life
You who saw the road to take
Tell me how i can build when earth shake
Hopes made of sust blew by a breath
Blamed for a weakness I don't own
My Desires stolen and took to anyone
I hate what I've been forced to become
For a fate that I don't know
For a chance that I don't own
I keep living and fighting my way off this endless mud
I unheard searching for the light out of this darkness
I've grown alone with all my fears
I've played the bills for all my tears
Unspoken words left on the road
The silent scream of an unknown
I'm tired of feeling powerless to disappoint the hopes of whom
I care
Her eyes the mirror of my failure I can't forgive myself for ev ery time that I told her that I can't
I keep living and fighting my way off this endless mud
I unheard searching for the light out of this darkness
The theads of my fate are out of control
I'm on the verge of falling to the Oblivion
The rules of this senseless order are carved on my pain
I've grown alone with all my fears
I've played the bills for all my tears
The silent scream of an unknown.
