

In Time

Kris Allen

Seems like forever since I felt alive
My whole world was shaken in the blink of an eye
And everybody's got a word
That's gonna take away the hurt
And make everything alright
But give me just a little while
Cause in time

In time I'll run
And in time I'll heal
And in time these wounds will show me what's real
And in time I'll learn
And in time I'll trust
And in time we'll love what's been broken in us
In time

Give yourself some distance, and what do you find
That it's in the shadow places you first see the light
And I know there's a reason
But I just can't see it
At least not tonight
But give me just a little while
Cause in time

In time I'll run
And in time I'll heal
And in time these wounds will show me what's real
And in time I'll learn
And in time I'll trust
And in time we'll love what's been broken in us
In time

Wait, wait, for it now
Wait, wait, for it now
It's coming, it's coming
Wait, wait, for it now
Oh, won't you wait, wait, for it now

In time I'll run
And in time I'll heal
And in time these wounds will show me what's real
And in time I'll learn
And in time I'll trust
And in time we'll love what's been broken in us
In time
In time
